Trafalgar Castle School presents

Whodunit?

Thursday, February 7 7 p.m.

Friday, February 8 7 p.m.

“Produced by special arrangement with
THE DRAMATIC PUBLISHING COMPANY of Woodstock, Illinois”

Title: Whodunit?
Playwright: Anne Coulter Martens

The detectives may not know who the killer is, but the audience knows. An announcer gives them the real facts. Following that, there's the fun of watching the experts - and the amateurs - as they struggle to solve the dire murder. Is it the butler? Is it Grandma? It just couldn't be sweet Alice! The wind howls, lights flicker, and blood-curdling screams are heard.

Student Directors: Amelia Bennett and Megan Moutsatsos

A Letter from the Student Directors:

We are so pleased with how the school show has turned out! This is our second year directing, and we are so proud of our girls. We have asked a lot of them throughout the three months of rehearsals, whether it be participating in warmups where they walk like their characters, or playing games where they scream in a circle to warm up their vocal cords. Throughout it all, they have been positive, determined, and eager to take on whatever we throw at them. Additionally, we have seen new friendships form, and so many girls come out of their shells to embrace their inner thespians. For this, we are so grateful, and we thank them.

We would also like to give a tremendous thank-you to Ms. Sills, Ms. Robson, and Ms. Siqueira. Without their guidance and constant support, the show would not be what it is today. Finally, we thank you, the audience members, for coming to our show. We hope you enjoy it!
